HTML5 Methods for Making Things Tab-able

All of the items below are tabbable. The text area and button are tabbable by default, and the divs use two different methods.

A textarea. Focus states work by default.

And I'm a button. Again, works by default.

Divs don't usually have a focus state. But I'm special, because I'm `contenteditable`.

I'm another div, and I have a `tabindex`. You can't edit me like the div above, but you can tab to me.

I can't be tabbed to. This is a terrible idea, generally, but it can be done using tabindex="-1". Notice that (if you
